COLLECTION OF P. CATTADORI'S ITALIAN ART GALLERY

Signor Cattadori, the well-known connoisseur of Venice, has consigned to the American Art Association, to be sold under its invariable terms of an unrestricted and unprotected public sale, the important ancient Italian Furniture, Textiles, Laces, Tapestries, Paintings, Valuable Art Objects and Sculptures removed from his now demolished premises at 734 Fifth Avenue.

Many of the objects now on exhibition were derived from such world-renowned sources as the collections of Stefano Bardini, Gauthier of Paris, the Caracciolo, the Borghese Palace, Rome, The Royal Palace of Racconigi, the Dowager Queen of Italy, the Doria Palace and Count Camillo Benso di Cavour.

Among the textiles are many Gothic and Renaissance Velvets remarkable for beautiful color or marvelous weaving; a Papal Amethyst Baldachino and Jade Green Hanging present an unrivaled refinement of color, and a Gothic Drap d'Or Center, woven in crimson with rare bouclé stitch, and a sapphire Velvet Panel of the same Venetian period exemplify the great dexterity that weaving had then attained. Jardinière and other Genoese Velvets are well represented; many specimens enriched with exquisite needle-painting in gold threads reflecting the remarkable precision of not only the eminent painters, who did not disdain to draw a pattern or subject motive, but the rare craftsmanship of the embroiderer. The Brocades, Damasks and Brocatelles are not less noteworthy than the Velvets. A group of Fillet Lace and Fil-tiré Covers exhibiting Gothic and Renaissance motives, many with animalistic motives, is one of the most interesting heretofore offered at public sale.

The collection of dainty Ivory Fans of the eighteenth century includes many of perfection in decorative value.

The Jewelry displayed has a passing interest, rather more for the effect desired than the value of the gems used in the settings.

The collection of Early Italian Faience includes many rare specimens of Caffaggiolo, Savona and Della Robbia. A Saxe Tea and Coffee Set is not only complete, but delightful in the chaste simplicity of its decoration. There are a number of Brass

Votive Lamps, Braseros, Forged Iron Torchères, Andirons most useful in their purpose and dignity; a fifteenth century Sanctuary Screen, delicately forged and chiseled with lacelike tracery, Saracenic and Crusaders' heads, is possibly the finest specimen of iron-work extant of this early period.

Two Italian Renaissance Rock Crystal Candlesticks are of great interest and finely mounted. French eighteenth century Gilded Bronze Ameublements are exemplified by two delightful Louis XV Clocks, one from the Dowager Queen of Italy's Collection, and a pair of Louis XVI Wall Appliqués signed by Payot.

The two superlative Statuary Bas-reliefs by Cellini and Bandinelli have the prestige and distinction of association in the famous Bardini Collection.

The Decorative and Portrait Paintings include examples by Guardi, Mariées, Giulio Romano, François Boucher, several important Architectural Landscapes painted in tempera, also from Bardini, and a distinguished Primitive "Madonna and Child" by Lorenzetti which glows with color and devotional feeling.

The Italian Gothic and French Renaissance and eighteenth century Furniture, although extremely diverse in period and style, "holds together" in a remarkable manner, demonstrating its eclectic selection. Several Gothic Chests and Renaissance Cassoni will undoubtedly be eagerly sought for their rarely interesting details; further objects to be noted are Torchères by del Tasso and others, several fine Needlework Screens, Chairs, and Settee, Console and Other Tables, Cabinets, a number of Choir Stalls from the Church of San Lorenzo, Naples, State Beds, a beautifully inlaid and mounted Commode signed by Russel, a Venetian Sedan Chair eminently suited for a modern telephone booth in a great hall, and a French Renaissance Window Casement in fine condition of artistic workmanship.

The Tapestries and Needlework Hangings include several Gothics, one small panel, "The Adoration of the Virgin," being exceptionally fine and varied in its weaving; of the Renaissance, the "Alexander the Great and Porus," from Lord Braye's Collection, has the golden sunlit merit of its early period. A seventeenth century French Tapestry is of fine decorative quality, and a number of Tudor early French and Italian Petit and Gros Point are enhanced by the presence of a "Deposition from the Cross" whose cartoon has been given to Domenico Tiepolo (1726-1804.)

CONDITIONS OF SALE

1. Any bid which is merely a nominal or fractional advance may be rejected by the auctioneer, if, in his judgment, such bid would be likely to affect the sale injuriously.

2. The highest bidder shall be the buyer, and if any dispute arise between two or more bidders, the auctioneer shall either decide the same or put up for re-sale the lot so in dispute.

3. Payment shall be made of all or such part of the purchase money as may be required, and the names and addresses of the purchasers shall be given immediately on the sale of every lot, in default of which the lot so purchased shall be immediately put up again and re-sold.

Payment of that part of the purchase money not made at the time of sale shall be made within ten days thereafter, in default of which the undersigned may either continue to hold the lots at the risk of the purchaser and take such action as may be necessary for the enforcement of the sale, or may at public or private sale, and without other than this notice, re-sell the lots for the benefit of such purchaser, and the deficiency (if any) arising from such re-sale shall be a charge against such purchaser.

4. Delivery of any purchase will be made only upon payment of the total amount due for all purchases at the sale.

Deliveries will be made on sales days between the hours of 9 A. M. and 1 P. M., and on other days—except holidays—between the hours of 9 A. M. and 5 P. M.

Delivery of any purchase will be made only at the American Art Galleries, or other place of sale, as the case may be, and only on presenting the bill of purchase.

Delivery may be made, at the discretion of the Association, of any purchase during the session of the sale at which it was sold.

5. Shipping, boxing or wrapping of purchases is a business in which the Association is in no wise engaged, and will not be performed by the Association for purchasers. The Association will, however, afford to purchasers every facility for employing at current and reasonable rates carriers and packers; doing so, however, without any assumption of responsibility on its part for the acts and charges of the parties engaged for such service.

6. Storage of any purchase shall be at the sole risk of the purchaser. Title passes upon the fall of the auctioneer's hammer, and thereafter, while the Association will exercise due caution in caring for and delivering such purchase, it will not hold itself responsible if such purchase be lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed.

Storage charges will be made upon all purchases not removed within ten days from the date of the sale thereof.

7. Guarantee is not made either by the owner or the Association of the correctness of the description, genuineness or authenticity of any lot, and no sale will be set aside on account of any incorrectness, error of cataloguing, or any imperfection not noted. Every lot is on public exhibition one or more days prior to its sale, after which it is sold "as is" and without recourse.

The Association exercises great care to catalogue every lot correctly, and will give consideration to the opinion of any trustworthy expert to the effect that any lot has been incorrectly catalogued, and, in its judgment, may either sell the lot as catalogued or make mention of the opinion of such expert, who thereby would become responsible for such damage as might result were his opinion without proper foundation.

BENVENUTO CELLINI (1500—1571)

613—SCULPTURED STATUARY MARBLE BAS-RELIEF

Florentine Sixteenth Century

"Venus Discovered." The graceful, awakening goddess reclines on a drapery and turns to a smiling cupid, standing at left; he has drawn back the drapery from his mother with his left hand. Toward right a malicious, grinning youthful satyr, carrying a flaming torch, has withdrawn the drapery farther from the recumbent figure. In old carved and gilded frame with dentiled molded cornice and voluted brackets.

Height, 19 inches; length, 25 inches.

Note: This figure of Venus is remarkably like that of the large Venus by Cellini now in the Louvre. This bas-relief came from the small collection of the Peruzzi family (related to the Medici and, in the sixteenth century, one of the most distinguished families of Florence), and with it originally was the bas-relief of the "Flagellation" now in the Berlin Museum.

614—STATUARY MARBLE BAS-RELIEF

Florentine Sixteenth Century

“Madonna and Child.” Half-length seated figure of the Virgin, wearing coiled hair twined with bands, an elaborately embroidered robe and a simple mantle. She holds the standing Infant Saviour in her arms. He is clad in a tunic confined by a folded sash. In a contemporary Tabernacolo frame with molded cornice, voluted side brackets and molded base.

Height, 22 inches; width, 15 inches.

Note: This bas-relief shows the debt Bandinelli owed to Donatello, whose works, at the behest of Leonardi da Vinci, he studied closely. It is highly suggestive of the base of the Medicean Monument in the Piazza San Lorenzo, Florence.

678—LA COMTESSE DE CHASTELARD

Height, 21½ inches; width, 18 inches

Bust length, slightly turned to left, of a beautiful young woman, wearing a dainty wreath of flowers in her gray pompadour hair, a blue bodice over a lawn robe and a narrow black silk ribbon round her neck.

PIETRO LORENZETTI

SIENESE: 12(?)—1348

679—VIRGIN AND CHILD

(Arched panel)

Height, 36 inches; width, 29 inches

THE enthroned and crowned Virgin, clad in a robe and hooded mantle of dark blue lined with green and trimmed with gold-embroidered bands and a transparent lawn veil, holds on her lap the Infant Saviour and clasps one of his bare feet with her right hand. He wears a rose-colored robe bordered with gold and has closely curling hair. Both Mother and Child have at their breasts raised bright red pastiglia jewels and their golden haloes are similarly jeweled. The architectural throne is paneled and stepped at seat, arms and back, crested with fleurs-de-lis and is enriched with finials, emblematic of the four evangelists, namely, the Eagle of St. John, the Angel of St. Matthew, the Bull of St. Luke and the Lion of St. Mark. The throne stands before a gilded background and has a further enrichment in the panels of mosaic, of the type made familiar by the Cosmati family.

Note: Pietro di Lorenzo, known as Lorenzetti, one of the earliest Sienese painters, was a pupil of Duccio Buoninsegna and at first followed the technique of Simon and Pietro Cavallini; later he gave his individuality full play. Venturi, in his "Storia dell' Arte Italiana" (1907), calls attention to this Master's drawing of "the narrowed, almond-shaped eyes, the down-turned lips and the long hands with widely parted fingers" which are strongly in evidence in the above painting. His earliest signed painting is a panel in the Uffizi Gallery at Florence; his greatest glory is the series of frescoes in the lower Church of St. Francesco at Assisi. These were for many years attributed to Giotto. The structure of the Throne and the Pastiglia resemble, to a remarkable degree, that of the Throne of his Virgin in Cortona Cathedral, and there is scarcely a picture of his known in which he has not introduced with a keen delight the panels of what is known as Cosmati Mosaici, which are such a feature of this painting.

680—FLEMISH GOTHIC TAPESTRY PANEL

Early Sixteenth Century

"The Adoration of the Virgin." The Holy Mother kneels in the foreground before the Infant Saviour, who reclines on the folds of His Mother's ample blue robe. St. Joseph, an ass and a recumbent bull are seen against a background of farm buildings. At left are two adoring cherubs and four shepherds, two toward a rugged mountainside crested by a rambling castellated edifice. An angel appears in the heavens. Most interesting rose-reds, golden yellows, tawny browns, blues and ivories invest the theme with a rare color scheme. Mounted on stretcher; finished with colored galloon.

25½ inches square.

Note: The weaving is exceptionally fine and varied for this early period.

681—RENAISSANCE TAPESTRY BORDER

Flemish Seventeenth Century

"Constantia." The subject seated, bearing a column within a cartouched oval supported by winged demi-cupids; flanked by beautiful scrolling acanthus leaves on a fluctuating wine-red ground. Woven in charming pastel colors.

Length, 3 feet by 20 inches.

682—RENAISSANCE TAPESTRY BORDER

Brussels Seventeenth Century

"Cupids, landscapes and fruit." Displaying three finely cartouched oval medallions occupied by miniature landscapes animated by châteaux and supported by a cupid who sustains intermediate festoons of magnificent fruit. Woven in rich warm colors on tawny ground.

Length, 5 yards 10 inches; depth, 18 inches.

684—GOLD NEEDLE-PAINTED VELVET LAMBREQUIN

Flemish Gothic

Rose-red velvet, enriched with stepped oblong medallions, at center and ends, interrupted by ovals and panels of gracefully scrolled Gothic leafage. The medallions occupied by subjects, "The Adoration of the Virgin" and many Saints.

Length, 3 1/3 yards; depth, 18 inches.

685—NEEDLE-PAINTED VELVET HANGING

Florentine Sixteenth Century

Displaying a central conventionally shaped hood; embroidered in gold threads and colors with scrolled rondel occupied by a figure of the Magdalene. Flanked by four square velvet panels enriched with dolphin scrolled rondels variously occupied by subjects, "The Annunciation," "Birth of Christ," "The Assumption" and "Circumcision."

Length, 3 yards 7 inches; depth, 20 inches.

686—NEEDLEWORK PANEL

English Renaissance

"Allegorical of Abundance." An emblematic amply robed female figure, resting on a staff, is seated before a finely conventionalized field of wheat and flowers; at left and right are two gamboling cupids; in the foreground, a hound and peacock. The rising lightly wooded distance is occupied by several habitations, and above in the clouds the "Holy Father is seated in Majesty, blessing the abundance of the earth; the Virgin and Saviour at His sides." Executed in low-toned harmonious colors, with golden-yellows predominating. In molded walnut frame.

Height, 53½ inches; width, 39 inches.

687—TUDOR NEEDLEWORK PANEL

English Renaissance

Gros-point, displaying a scene from Æsop's Fables. At the foot of a flower-decked wooded hill crested by a habitation are a fox and a dead crane. Executed in rare blues, pinks, tans, ivories and greens. Beautiful border of very varied clustered fruit in colors on a recurring blue ground. Finished with blossom guards.

Height, 6 feet 4 inches; width, 3 feet 5 inches.

688—PETIT POINT PANEL Italian Eighteenth Century

"The Deposition." The inert Saviour rests on His Mother's lap. She wears beautiful robes of rose-crimson and blue and is seated in center with a cherub kneeling at left, before a ladder, the implements of the Passion nearby; another cherub kisses the Saviour's hand at right and kneels near the tomb, against which rests a spear and symbolic sponge. In wave-molded ebony frame.

Height, 2 feet 11 inches; length, 4 feet 6½ inches.

Note: The cartoon for this remarkable specimen of needlework has been attributed to the Venetian painter Domenico Tiepolo (1726-1804).

(Illustrated)

689—PETIT AND GROS-POINT PANEL French Seventeenth Century

Resonant background, displaying grotesqued scrolls amid acanthus leafage, cornucopias and husks developed from a central motive composed of jardinière flanked by two recumbent sphinxes. Broad borders, exhibiting numerous animals and birds amid trailing vines laden with flowers and fruit. Executed in rich blues, golden-yellows, crimsons, ivories and greens. The borders slightly lower in tone, enhancing the coloring of the center.

Height, 7 feet; length, 8 feet.

690—PAPAL AMETHYST VELVET BALDACHINO

Italian Seventeenth Century

Lustrous heavy-pile velvet, with fluctuating areas of gem-like tone. The borders and corners are impressed with markings of previous embroidery; the corners exhibit coronetted cartouches enclosing three-tiered Papal tiaras and crossed keys. Trimmed with original patterned silver galloon.

Length, 2 2/3 yards; width, 3 yards 6 inches.

691—GOLD-EMBROIDERED VELVET BALDACHINO

Italian Seventeenth Century

Rare closely woven velvet, pulsating in the light with areas of light amethyst to deep shades of cool purple. Impressed with the marks of previous embroidery.

Length, 2 1/3 yards; width, 1 2/3 yards.

693—DRAP D'OR CRIMSON BROCADE BALDACHINO

Italian Sixteenth Century

Rich floral damassé ground; woven in gold threads with strap ogivals alternately enclosing bouquets of carnations and tulip motives.

Length, 3 3/4 yards; width, 2 1/3 yards.

694—HERALDIC VELOURS BALDACHINO

Florentine Seventeenth Century

Brilliant rose-crimson, displaying a cartouched coat-of-arms, surmounted by a coronet, mantled with a demi-lion bearing a sun; the shield charged with a mount above three bars. The cartouche is scrolled and festooned with acanthus leaves. Ivory floral borders, interrupted by leonic heads at corners. Exceptionally wide weaving for this early period.

Height, 9 feet 3 inches; width, 8 feet.

From the collection of Principe Gonzaga di Montova.

695—RENAISSANCE TAPESTRY French Seventeenth Century

"Palais de Versailles." The foreground occupied by blossoming flowers, hollyhocks and asters which shelter a small spaniel irritating a hawk perched on its dying quarry; on rising ground at left and right groups of trees bower a vista of the elaborately arcaded palace and a formal Italian garden. Woven in rich greens, blues, yellows, tans, pinks, and crimson. Beautiful borders of straps and scrolled acanthus leafage, finished with leaf and bead moldings, interrupted with cartouched shell motives at centers and corners; woven in richer colors than the field.

Height, 9 feet 9 inches; width, 9 feet.

696—GOTHIC TAPESTRY

Late Fifteenth Century

"Jacob Feeding Laban's Flocks." Jacob stands in the foreground pouring a bucket of water into a trough; beyond is a columned well-head with its tackle, and two shepherds standing before their flocks; at left is a heavy, rustic tree-trunk. Jacob's figure is inscribed with his name. Woven in rich red, blue, ivory, tans and browns. A fragment of a larger panel.

Height, 8 feet 2 inches; width, 4 feet.

697—RENAISSANCE TAPESTRY

Flemish Sixteenth Century

"Apollo." Standing, carrying a staff and clad in classic garb, an ermine mantle falling from the shoulders; in the background a balustrade and foliage. Woven in blue, golden yellows, rich brown, ivory and many shades of green. Fragment.

Height, 6 feet 3 inches; width, 2 feet 9 inches.

698—ALLEGORICAL AUBUSSON TAPESTRY

Seventeenth Century

"Flora and Pomona." A broad, fruitful landscape is occupied in the foreground by a triumphal car drawn by lions. The Goddess, in ample robes, bearing her attributes is seated therein and a gaily dressed cupidon stands at the front of the car above a large cornucopia of fruit; at left, under a clump of trees, are a farmer and his wife reaping in a wheat field. Other clumps of trees somewhat divide the composition into two vistas disclosing several châteaux, their domains and snowclad mountains in the distance. Soft reds, light blues and yellows relieve the deep blues, greens and tans of the foliage. The borders exhibit sprays of flowers and acanthus leaves in the colors of the field on a rich tawny ground.

Height, 9 feet 6 inches; length, 15 feet 9 inches.

699—AUBISSON TAPESTRY

Eighteenth Century

"The Triumph of Flora." Summer has brought the fair goddess, who reclines on a couch, her triumph. Two flying nymphs scatter flowers from above, at left a vestal approaches with a basket of flowers carried on her head, and another at right offers a large garland. Under a draped canopy at right, two contented children are at a table playing with a bird. Crimson, pinks, greens, blues and yellow give an affluence of generous color, thoroughly complementing the profusion of the composition.

Height, 7 feet 4 inches; width, 13 feet.

700—GROTESQUE TAPESTRY

Flemish Renaissance Period

"Fabulous Animals." Uneven flower-decked foreground, animated by varied large wild animals, birds and clumps of date-bearing palms and oak trees. In the mid-distance at right a stag hunt is in progress; at left, near a cottage, two peasants are escaping from the dangers of the hunt. A central vista discloses château crested by a wooded hill. Woven in rich browns, reds, ivories and yellows with finely contrasting forest greens and blues. Broad borders displaying allegorical figures, termes and satyrs amid clustered fruit; finished with blossom and guilloche guards.

Height, 9 feet 9 inches; length, 16 feet 6 inches.

701—RENAISSANCE TAPESTRY      Brussels Sixteenth Century

"Alexander the Great and Porus." The noble Alexander, in classic garb, stands at left, his spear thrust forward toward the body of Porus, who is mounted on a rearing charger and wearing a Persian costume; before them, on the flower-decked sward, are a fallen warrior and his steed; other warriors join in combat nearby, and beyond a troop of cavalry is charging on to the field. At right are two further armies; the distant one attacking two forts, and among its varied equipment are several elephants. The field of battle is crested with wooded hills and several châteaux. Woven in rich colors with a golden yellow, mostly of silk, giving a distinguished sunlit glow. The fine broad borders harmonize in color, presenting miniature classic landscapes within oval medallions and allegorical figures of goddesses interrupted by clusters of fruit, flowers, caryatids and masks.

Height, 11 feet 7 inches; length, 12 feet 6 inches.

Note: This tapestry was woven from the cartoons of Bernard Van Orley.

From the collection of the Right Hon. Lord Braye, Stanford Hall, Leicester.
